
This is the 1816 foreign tariff for Finland (except via Sweden).

The currency is Rubles and Kopecs Banco (paper money, not silver)

The silver money was typical four times more valuable than the papermoney

Besides the postage of this tariff the Finland correspondents also had to pay the inland postage to the border. Typically 100 Kopecs Banco, but varying from office to office in Finland.

This foreign tariff is the last page in a huge tariff showing the inland postage between all Finnish offices on one side and all Russian and Finnish offices on the other side.

Esa Mattila has published this inland tariff in his book "Suomen Postimaksut Kotimaassa" The language is German/Finnish
